

MARKET REPORT – WEEK 8

BASED ON SALES AND PURCHASES OF VESSELS WEEK ENDED FRIDAY 23RD FEBRUARY 2024.

Since the BDI has managed to post improved numbers for the past 2 weeks of Chinese New Year holidays we would hope to see even better gains as that market sector returns to work from this week onwards.

Week 8 saw a +15.9% improvement of the BDI due to w-o-w gains by the BCI, BSI and BHSI of +28.5%, +11.0% and +9.8% respectively, while the only sector to back off a little was the BPI by -3.1% during the week.

The S+P sectors appear to be reflecting the above trading positivity too, as sale prices being achieved for dry, wet and gas vessels all remain at last done or better levels with plenty of purchasing interest being shown for all main shipping sectors and for nearly all ages of vessels.

The subcontinent recycling centers of India, Bangladesh and Pakistan all remain fairly quiet though India last week seemed a bit more interested to purchase and duly increased its levels on offer by about $5 per LDT. Bangladesh meanwhile is concentrating to buy container or tanker vessels when available, while Pakistan breakers are currently more interested to monitor if / how a new coalition government will be formed post elections before rushing to buy ships to recycle.
