

MARKET REPORT – WEEK 15

BASED ON SALES AND PURCHASES OF VESSELS WEEK ENDED FRIDAY 12TH APRIL 2024.

Whatever the shipping / money / stock / energy markets etc etc are currently doing it is all with a very keen eye trained on developments in the middle east after Iran made a direct war provoking attack on Israel over the weekend. We all now wait with bated breath to see how Israel will inevitably respond and then what then happens after that. The situation has potential to become even more ugly in the short term and since Iran probably by now has nuclear weapon capabilities the risk of an even greater 'fallout' cannot be ignored.

As Eid celebrations ended the BDI managed to reverse its previous 3 week weakening trend back into positivity via a +6.2% w-o-w improvement by its close on Friday. The BCI was the largest gainer by +12.2%, aided by the BPI +1.1% and the BSI +0.9%. The BHSI meantime closed -1.8% w-o-w down.

Tanker earnings remain extremely strong and only likely to improve further in the foreseeable future due to the increased ton mile demands created by the current issues in Ukraine, Red Sea and whatever may now occur in the MEG, plus the fact that the net tanker newbuilding order book is low. So far this year modern VLCCs are averaging region $57,900 daily, Suezmaxes $59,900 daily, Aframaxes $60,700 daily and modern MR product tankers about $39,500 daily.

The seemingly perennially quiet subcontinent recycling sector has been even quieter during the past month of Ramadan observance followed by Eid, but now that is all over we anticipate the breakers may become a little keener to secure tonnage albeit the rates on offer, in the low $500's for most vessel types, are not unattractive anyway. It's more a case of owners being reluctant to scrap ships while their trading earnings remain so attractive.
